Citizen Advisors sought for Resource Advisory Committees
Committees to advise funding for on-the-ground federal land projects

Roseburg Ore – The Roseburg Bureau of Land Management (BLM) is reestablishing the Resource Advisory Committees (Committees) in accordance with Section 205 of the Secure Rural Schools and Community Self Determination Act of 2000--Public Law 106-393 (the Act). Committee members from a variety of interests are sought who are committed to working collaboratively for the long term benefit of public lands and local communities. The nomination period will close on June 30, 2001.

The Secure Rural Schools and Community Self Determination Act of 2000 establishes a five-year payment schedule to local counties in lieu of funds derived from the harvest of timber on federal lands, which have dropped dramatically over the past 10 years. The Act creates a new mechanism for local community collaboration with federal land management activities in the selection of projects to be conducted on federal lands or that will benefit resources on federal lands using O&C/County funds under Title II of the Act.

The Committee's designated federal officer (DFO) is District Manager, Jay Carlson. Mr. Carlson will submit federal projects to be considered for funding under Title II of the Act to the Resource Advisory Committee. The Committee members will review the federal projects and transmit their recommendations on those projects to the DFO.

The qualifications for membership on each Committee is determined by the Secretary of the Interior. The Secretary will select 15 members who reside within the Committee's geographic jurisdiction to ensure local representation. As required by the Federal Advisory Committee Act and Section 205(d) of the Act, membership must be balanced and representative of the various interests concerned with the management of the public lands.

Committee members will be representative of the interests of the following three categories:

Category One- representatives of organized labor; developed outdoor recreation; off-highway vehicle use; energy and/or mining development; timber industry; or holders of federal grazing permits.

Category Two- representatives of nationally, regionally or locally recognized environmental organizations; dispersed recreation, archaeological and historic interests; or wild horse and burro groups.

Category Three- State, county or local elected officials; representatives of Native American Tribes; school officials or teachers, or the public-at-large.

Roseburg District Resource Advisory Committee advises federal officials on the management of federal lands within the Roseburg District boundary and includes Douglas, Lane, and Jackson Counties.

Members serve without monetary compensation, but will be reimbursed for travel and per diem when on Committee business, as authorized by 5 U.S.C. 5703. Prospective members are advised that membership on a Committee calls for a substantial commitment of time and energy.

Individuals may nominate themselves or others. The terms for the positions will be for three years. Nominees must reside within one of the counties that are (in whole or part) within the BLM District boundaries of the Committee(s) on which membership is sought. A person may apply for and serve on more than one Committee.

Nominees will be evaluated based on their education, training, and experience working with the interest area they choose to represent, and their knowledge of the geographic area covered by the Committee. Nominees must also have demonstrated a commitment to collaborative resource decision making. All nominations should be accompanied by letters of reference from represented interests or organizations and a completed nomination application, as well as any other information that speaks to the nominee's qualifications.

Completed nomination forms and letters of reference should be sent to the appropriate BLM District office. The Secretary of the Interior will make the appointments to the Resource Advisory Committees.
